EXHAUSTO enters Powerful Multi-brand Group

Soler & Palau Ventilation Group has acquired the EXHAUSTO Group who is now part of the family-owned Spanish Group. Soler & Palau is a global leader in ventilation, offering innovative and energy-efficient indoor climate solutions for residential, commercial and industrial applications. The acquisition of EXHAUSTO adds a state-of-the-art platform of specialized air handling units to the global portfolio and brings new strength to the Northern European markets.

“Our customers and partners throughout Europe will experience that EXHAUSTO’s strong brand is continued without compromise. The promise to deliver energy-efficient indoor climate solutions of high quality is clearer than ever,” states Juan Manuel Lecue, Europe Managing Director.

“We are happy to remain in a family-owned group having their roots in the industry - just like EXHAUSTO. We share the same values and ambitions to strive for growth through innovation and development” says Mads Rosenmeier, EXHAUSTO CEO.

Together with EXHAUSTO’s management, Soler & Palau will strengthen and develop the company’s market position over the coming years. The major investments in production equipment and the development of a completely new product platform in recent years, together with a competent team, form a very strong base for our future growth plans.
